Early Childhood Music Classes

$105.00 for 8 weeks

Each week your child will learn new songs including holiday, traditional, folk and multicultural. Percussion instruments will be used each week. Rhythm will be taught through drums, castanets, tone blocks, maracas and bells. Pre-reading of music will be introduced as well as the value of musical notes in the Preschool and Kindergarten classes. Children will be introduced to all the orchestra instruments as well as instruments from around the world. Movement, dancing and literature are also introduced in fun and imaginative ways. These classes will then prepare them for the beginning piano course or violin classes when children turn age 4.

Age Groups

Classes are grouped based on the developmental skills of each child instead of age. Please read the description to find a class that best suits your child.

Infant is generally birth to walking. Parent participation is required for this class.

Toddler is walking children who are starting to learn basic language, who are learning basic large motor skills (walking slow & fast) and want to learn socialization skills. Parent participation is required for this class.

Preschool is for children who are verbal, have good basic motor skills (running & jumping) and are learning small motor skills and want to learn listening skills. Parent participation is encouraged.

PreK to Kindergarten are children who are verbal and have both small and large motor skills. They have basic listening skills. These children are taught basic music dynamics and pre-reading to prepare them for reading, encourage more language and help with math and science. Parent participation is optional.

Preparatory Piano Classes Ages 3-5 children will be introduced to music theory to help prepare them to learn piano and/or another instrument. Preparatory Music Class students will be introduced to instruments, including instruments in an orchestra, creative movement, singing, listening and rhythm. A developmentally appropriate and enjoyable music program that will enhance your child's awareness of music. Parent Participation is optional.
